14 AUTOS PILE UP ON BAYSHORE

WPA Workers And Others Injured Are Treated At S. S. F. Hospital

Fourteen autos piled up in a Bayshore highway accident between Mills Field and the South San Francisco underpass, Monday morning of this week. Dense fog which reduced visibility to a minimum was reported as the cause of the accident.

Thirteen persons were injured so seriously they required hospital treatment. Seven were Chinese WPA workers en route to the airport project.

The truck carrying WPA workmen stopped suddenly to avoid striking an auto. Melvin Dohn, 1424 Innes street, San Francisco, his vision obscured by the fog, crashed into the rear of the truck, officers reported. In rapid succession, four other cars piled into the wreckage.

Before traffic could be diverted eight other cars smashed into the wrecked autos. The highway was blocked for an hour by the crash, traffic being rerouted over El Camino Real for the time.

S.S.F. Gets Answer On Harbor Lines

After three years of arguments in San Mateo County, South San Francisco was given, Friday of last week, a free hand in its attempts to have harbor lines within the city set at the line of free title ownership.

The supervisors cleared the way for industrial development of the waterfront between Mills Field and the San Francisco County line by finally withdrawing all opposition to asking the San Francisco Harbor Line Board, which acts for the Board of Army Engineers, to set the lines at the edge of private property.

Although the supervisors sanctioned the South San Francisco request, they emphatically denounced the policy of setting harbor lines at private property limits elsewhere in the county.

Kidnaper Gets 10 Years

Ten years in McNeil Island federal penitentiary and a $5000 fine was the sentence handed down by Judge E. E. Cushman to Edward Fliss, 30, the last person to be apprehended in the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping case of 1934, for trying to pass $265 of the $200,000 kidnap ransom money.

PLANS FOR NEW LIBRARY AND CITY HALL ARE SUBMITTED TO COUNCIL BY S. F. ARCHITECT

Other Daly City Improvements Include Playgrounds And Extension Of Fire Alarm And Water Systems

Plans for the contemplated new city hall and library in Daly City are now in the hands of the board of councilmen. The San Francisco architect, engaged by the council, submitted his black and white sketches last week.

Specifications for the city hall call for a 60x60 foot re-inforced concrete structure. Exterior will be stuccoed in modernistic fashion.

MORE ROOM

The three story building will make available almost twice as much floor space as is contained in the present city hall. A fire proof jail, police locker rooms, store rooms and a heating plant are to be located in the basement.

The first floor provides for city clerk, building inspector and street department offices also police and water department headquarters. A meeting hall with 150 stationary seats, a caucus room, justice court and public library are planned for the second story.

Main reading rooms of 60x25 feet dimensions are specified for the new library, construction of which is proposed on the city's Wellington avenue lots above the Catholic Church.

A section at the rear of the reading room, measuring 24x23 feet, will house book stacks and serve as a headquarters for the librarians. Display cases and magazine racks are to be conveniently located.

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS

Along with the building program planned by the Daly City Council, the acquisition of playground land and the extension of city fire alarm and water systems into the Colma area, annexed to Daly City in 1933, are proposed.

San Mateo Water Districts Planned

A conference between peninsula mayors and Utilities Manager E. G. Cahill of San Francisco, last week, pushed preliminary plans for forming one and possibly two water districts in San Mateo County to take advantage of new Hetch Hetchy rates.

Mayor Paul G. McCarthy of Redwood City will head a committee to prepare maps of the proposed districts, with information on tentative rates. Cahill promises co-operation with any feasible plan to increase water service.

REDWOOD MEETING

Compiled information and plans will be submitted at a meeting of officials and representatives of cities, other large water consumers and interested organizations, at Redwood City today.

A decision is expected on the proposal to form one or two districts for joint purchase of Hetch Hetchy water in order to benefit by the new basic wholesale rate of 10 cents a hundred cubic feet for consumers of more than 333,300 cubic feet a month.

Approval of various city councils for establishment of the district or districts will be sought should a favorable decision be reached.

CAUCUS PLANNED BY NEW BOARD

Newly Elected Supervisors And Two Who Remain In Office To Hold Organization Meeting

Within the next week or so the three new members elected to the County Board of Supervisors, along with the two who are to retain their positions, plan an organization meeting. The possibility that post-election litigation will prevent the seating of the new board is rapidly decreasing.

Supervisors-elect James S. James, Alvin S. Hatch and Hugh H. Smith and incumbents Fred E. Beer and John W. Poole will probably discuss next year's "program" and selection of a new chairmen at this private session. Whether or not to suspend immediately County Executive Kellogg and other appointive officials will in all probability get an "airing."

Certificates of election are scheduled to be mailed this week, after which 30 days is given the supervisors-elect to file the official bond and take the oath of office.

BIG S. F. WATER CONDUIT BREAKS NEAR JUNIPERO

Pumping Station Demolished And 75 Feet Of Boulevard Is Washed Out

A thirty inch pipe line burst, early Wedneseday morning of this week, at the pumping station on Junipero Serra boulevard near the San Francisco and San Mateo County lines, leaving thousands of Ocean View and Sunnyside district homes without water. Service was soon re-established by an auxiliary pipe system.

Damages estimated at $10,000 were caused when rushing water, after demolishing the pumping station, washed out 75 feet of Junipero Serra boulevard.

The pipe is one of the oldest conduits in the bay area. It carried water from the San Andreas resevoir to the city. Officials declared the break to be one of the most serious in years.

Emergency repair apparatus was rushed to the scene and clearing and reconstruction was started immediately.

When One Rings Your Door Bell Let Him Know You Are Loyal To Your Home City

In the growth and development of Daly City let us remember that each and every one of us, as residents and beneficiaries, are responsible in some degree for its progress.

We take pride in prosperous well kept stores, street improvements, adequate parking space, a well lighted commercial district, etc. Our home merchants depend on home trade, not our neighbor metropolitan city, for their livelihood and the upkeep and development of their shops.

High power door sill experts from out of town throw out many lines of alluring sales talks to ensnare us. If we were born and reared in Wisconsin, lo and behold, we find our solicitor was also a resident of our home state—they seem like our own folks from then on. It may be that by placing an immediate order we will be able to save ourselves a few dollars, although later we learn that we could have purchased the same article at home for the same price or, perhaps, by paying a few cents more, but by so doing demonstrating our desire to help our "town folks."

New Survey Puts San Mateo County Census At 93,500

According to an estimate of population of California counties by the California Taxpayers Association, San Mateo County will have a population of 93,500 on January 1, 1937. The population of the county on January 1, 1936, was 93,070, the association estimated.

The federal census gave San Mateo County's population as 77,405 on April 1, 1930, so that the taxpayers association's estimate shows an increase of about 16,100 by January 1, 1937.

The total population California, according to the association's estimate, will be 6,790,000 on January 1, 1937, an increase of approximately 1,113,000 over the census population of 5,677,251 as of April 1, 1930.

Fans Look For Fast Time At Bay Meadows Track In Burlingame Handicap

Possibilities that to Bay Meadows will go the honor tomorrow (Saturday) of hanging up a world's record for six furlongs, or at least equaling the mark of 1:09 1/5, is a stirring topic of conversation as fans discuss the next important Bay Meadows stake, the $5000 added Burlingame Handicap. When the meteor-like Clang bounced over the fast Coney Island (Cincinnati) track in 1:09 1/5 about a year ago he established this mark, the fastest a thoroughbred ever ran three-quarters of a mile around one turn.

Bay Meadows already is within shadow of the world's record set by Clang, for the speedster Alviso in winning the Inaugural Handicap here ran the six panels in 1:09 4/5.

PREVENTORIUM FUND DRIVE TO HELP CHILDREN

Twenty-eight Little San Mateo Tots Being Cared For At Institution

Twenty-eight little San Mateo County children, all representative of every section of the peninsula, today were dependent upon the success of the San Mateo Preventorium's drive for funds which is now in its second week.

The future of the Preventorium, a purely local institution for the children of San Mateo County exclusively who are threatened with tuberculosis, depends entirely upon the current drive for finances.

The Preventorium has adopted a new insignia this year to distinguish its drive as apart from those of other anti-tuberculosis organizations.

The new insignia depicts a nurse, two smiling children and a shield with the words—"health, knowledge and happiness."

The Preventorium subscription cards were mailed out by San Mateo County clubwomen to thousands of peninsulans last Thanksgiving Day.

The organization has been in existance for sixteen years, and during that time has restored to health more than 300 San Mateo children.

AMERICANS WAKE UP TO FOREIGN CHANCES

By J. W. MARCHBANK

An astonishing showing is made each year by the breeders of the British Isles in shipping thoroughbreds to all parts of the world, not only one year, but year after year. One agency alone, we learn from the Bloodstock Breeders' Review, shipped more than 9000 horses in the period from 1919 to 1935, inclusive, to France, India, Canada, the United States, Brazil, South Africa, Peru, Belgium, Argentina, Denmark, Germany, Austria, Japan and other countries.

Why can't the breeders of this country work up a business, which, in time, would compare with the wholesale transactions of our European cousins?

The answer usually is to the effect the British have an unbroken record of breeding and racing extending over hundreds of years. Our blood horse history is "spotty," filled with ups and downs, due, in some measure t,o interference with its natural growth by busybodies in legislatieve bodies. This country is so vast, too, it is hard to put forth centralized efforts essential in the expansion of such an industry as that of the thoroughbred.

Enlightened English opinion and probably that of Ireland as well supports the desirability of an infusion of what is known the world over as "stout" American blood in the fashionable strains on the islands over the Atlantic. The first move naturally would be the junking of the Jersey act, the provisions of which shut many of our best horses out of the General Stud Book.

Here is a suggestion to the point. It is in the way of drumming up a bit of trade with Australasia. On English tracks horses bred in France, the United States, Belgium, Germany and other countries earn brackets and every one knows Australia and New Zealand have long been heavy customers of England. The opportunity should come in a few years for the sale of American runners to Australasian sportsmen; thus adding to the international aspect of the racing in the southern hemisphere.

What can be done in developing worthwhile nicks is shown by my persistence in sending good mares to the court of the inbred Domino horse, King Heather, and following that up by breeding the daughters of the "King" to imported War Cry. About a dozen of the matrons are available now for me to keep on mating with War Cry or with the successful sire Sweepster. It has taken time to get these useful brood mares, but it has been well worth while.

Young Man Had Stolen Machine

Dallas Egleston, 18, 151 Valencia street, was apprehended by officers Sunderland and Dalton, Monday morning of this week, about 4:45 o'clock, with a stolen car in his possession.

The youth was parked in front of 366 Westlake avenue and the machine ran away and struck a light pole at 368 Westlake avenue. Egleston jumped out of the car and was not injured.

Mrs. Charles W. Hug, the former Miss Tamsel Brown, and Miss Barbara Yeo of Ross, Marin County, dined with Mrs. Hug's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brown of Theta avenue, Friday of last week.

Oregon Visitor Sees The Sights

Mrs. Josephine Glazebrook of Portland, Ore., returned to her home, Monday of this week, after spending three weeks visiting Mrs. J. L. Brown of Theta avenue.

While here Mrs. Glazebrook was visited by Mrs. Gertrude Abell and daughter Miss Margaret of Twenty-third street, San Francisco, and Mrs. Rena B. Cummings of Ellita way, Oakland, former friends of Moscow, Idaho.

Many automobile trips were enjoyed—across the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, down the peninsula, to Stanford University, the coastside and Golden Gate Park—and henceforth Mrs. Glazebrook will be an enthusiastic California booster.

NON-RESIDENTS TO BE ASSISTED BY DEPARTMENT

Inspection Of Papers And Cars May Be Made At Any Branch Office

Owners of out-of-state cars, who plan to get license plates in California, may have their cars and papers inspected at any branch office of the Division of Registration prior to the annual renewal, which begins January 2, it has been announced.

This service is to assist non-residents in getting their papers and cars ready for the renewal period, and to prevent delays which will arise in case cars, titles or bills of sale are not in order.

"If the title or bill of sale shows a lien," it is explained by the registrar of vehicles, "it will be necessary to get permission from the legal owner to register the car in California. Forms for this purpose will be supplied. Bills of sale must be notarized and must be from the firm or individual in the home state who sold the car to the present owner.

"In addition to the inspection of papers, it is also necessary to check the serial and motor numbers of out-of-state cars at a Department of Motor Vehicle office. During the renewal period this causes considerable delay, which may be avoided if done now."

The Division of Registration maintains fourteen branch offices and plans to open sub-branch offices for the renewal period in southern California.

FEDERAL MUSIC PROJECT PUTS ON MUSICAL SHOW

Two Co-authors Enact The Leading Roles In City Production Of Play

"Take Your Choice," music-coated pill of social philosophy by Ernst Bacon, Raisch Stoll and Phil Mathias of San Francisco's Federal Music Project, enters its second week at the Columbia Theater Monday night with a suburbanites curtain at 7:15 p. m. Matinees will be given Thursdays and Saturdays at 2:30 p. m.

Two of the co-authors take an active part in the show. Raisch Stoll assumes the brisk mannerisms of a jazz orchestra leader and conducts his swing band on the stage during the night club sequence. Ernst Bacon not only alternates with Ben Bauer in conducting the symphony orchestra in its 44 musical numbers, but is solo pianist for the dramatic necktie-salesman episode with its ominous implications of armament and war.

In what is definitely a "man's show," the only feminine principals are Phyllis Cole as a "level-headed American girl" and Maudry Auther, talk-of-the-town night club singer.

U. S. S. SMITH READY

The U. S. S. Smith, a recently commissioned destroyer, is scheduled for a "shakedown cruise" soon from Mare Island to Bremerton, provided that it meets all requirements in trial cruises around San Francisco Bay this week.

OLD GLORY POST AND AUXILIARY INDUCT OFFICERS

Two Organizations Unite For Ceremony—Many Visitors In Attendance

Amid the well wishes of a crowded hall of friends and relatives, the new officers chosen to chart the course of Old Glory Post and Auxiliary No. 2044, V. F. W., through the year 1937, were installed in their respective offices Friday evening of last week.

Council of Administration Member Margaret Donahue efficiently delivered the oath and instructed the officers in their duties. She was assisted by Francis Donahue and Genevieve Linser. William H. Augustus performed a similiar service for Commander Fred Collins and his corps of officers, assisted by the Degree Team of Fidility, Sterling Post No. 97.

Old Glory was proud to note among the visitors representing four counties, a number of members of the American Legion and Disabled American Veterans and the Daly City Council, as well as department and national officers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars present.

It must have appeared to the onlookers as though Old Santa has gotten his dates mixed and arrived a month too soon, so many gifts and flowers were given. Besides the presentation of jewels to the Junior Past President Geneive Linser and Past Commander M. J. Jensen, Ruth Brulez received the treaurer's pin; Myrna Hazlehurst and Lois Briggs, pins as color bearers. President Nellie Jensen, on behalf of Carlotte Collins and Genevieve Linser, presented Blanch Allen with a gift in appreciation of the work she performed during their terms of office.

So large and heavy is the past commanders badge presented 'Olie" Jensen by his fellow "Cooties" it is wondered if he has secured a trailer to assist him in wearing the adornment.

The following were installed by the Auxiliary: President, Nellie Jensen; Senior vice president, Allene Lehigh; Junior vice president, Nancy Hurley; Chaplain, Anna Sendner; treasurer, Myrtle Boyd secretary, Ethel Dorn; conductoress, Ruth Brulez; guard, Myrna Hazlehurst; patriotic instructor, Viola Dillon; musician, Florence Nesby; historian, Blanche Allen; trustee, Betty Cone; color bearers, Katherine Moore, Sandra Albertus, Marie Jones and Myrtle Irwin.

Refreshments were served after the ceremonies and dancing followed.

Saturday, while their husbands attended the "Cootie" installation of Alta Mesa Pup Tent No. 22 in South San Francisco, the ladies of the Auxiliary motored to Palo Alto for the installation of Alan H. Nichols Post and Auxiliary No. 69.

Tonight the members of the Sons Corps and Daughters Unit will meet at the home of Viola Dillon, 150 Acton street, for a social gathering and receive their parts in the Xmas entertainment.

Tomorrow night members of the ladies drill team will serve as color guards at the installation of officers of Trinity Chapter of the Eastern Star in San Francisco.

Expect Record Will Be Broken

Furthermore this Alviso won easily. In fact, it has since been contended that had real competition been offered this California bred he would have bettered his time. Since the Inaugural the track is much faster and nine track marks have been smashed in the interim.

Entering the speed picture for the Burlingame is the crack Eastern sprinter Exhibit, now racing for Mrs. C. S. Howard, California owner. Truly, Exhibit is a fast horse. He was beaten only a very narrow margin last summer by the great Myrtlewood and Bold Lover. It will be Exhibit's first start in California. His manner of going in his workouts convinces Trainer Tom Smith that this son of Display will be ready to turn on his top speed.

With such extremely fast sprinters as Alviso and Exhibit, along with other first flight sprinters to go in the Burlingame, it is freely declared that chances are bright for a new world's mark for six furlongs here next Saturday.

Charter Upheld And Kellogg Keeps Post

With two words, "motion granted," from Judge McNutt, Tuesday of this week, the validity of the San Mateo charter was again upheld, and Manager Walter T. Kellogg was virtually assured the right to finish his term of office.

Judge McNutt's statement was made in answer to Attorney Ferrell's motion that an old suit againt Kellogg be dismissed on the grounds of lack of prior prosecution.

Attorney John E. Manders sought to remove Kellogg from his $6000 a year job by post action on a suit filed October 5, 1933. The suit questioned Kellogg's eligibility to fill his office in view of the fact that he previously worked for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which held a franchise from the county.

HOST TO TRAILBUILDERS

California will be host, next week, to the trailbuilders of modern America.

From every state in the nation will come the men who control, supervise and administer the building of the highways, the 432,282 miles of state roads upon which 25,000,000 automobiles are annually operated.

They will come as delegates to the annual convention of the American Association of State Highway Officials, to be held in San Francisco December 7 to 10.

If you think for a moment that these are not important guests, you might ponder this astonishing fact. One tenth of the national income—that is, one tenth of all payrolls, of all gross earnings, of all dividends, of all profits of all the industries of the country spring from the automobile and its use on the highways.

It is fitting that these men have chosen California as their convention spot this year. If they have time they may view, in this state, the finest, most extensive and expensive network of highways in the world. There are more than 77,000 miles of them, they have cost us around a billion dollars, and the 2,280,485 vehicles they carry are more than in any other state save the much more populous New York.

Let's hope that they have a successful convention, that they like the way California does things, and that when they go back they'll tell the world about it.

CALIFORNIA GOES VISITING

This being the cheerful interlude in the seasons, with Thanksgiving just gone and Christmas just ahead, it's appropriate to drop the weightier woes of the world and consider one of the lighter subjects—the pleasure and profit of touring and travel in and around California.

About 120,000 more out-of-state motorists, the Department of Motor Vehicles reported last week, visited California in the first nine months of 1936 than in the like period a year ago. Good news, and a lot of good dollars in a lot of pockets.

But have you realized what a wandering band of touring vagabonds Californians themselves are? The Auto Association, in reporting a record 70 per cent gain in travel to national parks, says that more people from this state visited the Grand Canyon than did the people of Arizona, where the park is located!

While easily holding the lead in our own four parks of Yosemite, Sequoia, General Grant and Lassen, we also outvisited Utah people to their own Bryce Canyon National Park. And Californians have been second only to home staters in virtually every resort or scenic region in the West.

The state that is traditionally host to the nation sends out its share of guests to the nation as well.

CRIME'S ON THE WANE

Crime, of course, increases during hard times and decreases when times grow better. But according to figures released last week by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, crime throughout the nation is diminishing more rapidly than the experts can account for by returning prosperity. Between 1933 and 1935 murder and homicide declined 16 per cent, burglary and larceny 26 per cent, auto thefts 26.2 per cent.

The answer is that Uncle Sam's intensified war on crime is showing results.

Perhaps the combination of the G-men and lesser fear of want will go a long way toward abolishing crime. Another encouraging thing reported is that where as in 1930 the biggest age group of all persons arrested was 19, now it is 21. Fewer minors are flouting the law.

THE DRAGON AWAKENS

New blood, they say, is coursing through the veins of the old Chinese dragon, and that somewhat dismembered animal is at last in shape to strike back at Japan. News dispatches indicate that Chiang Kai Shek has put down Communism and united China on the common bond of resentment againt Nipponese aggression.

And Japan's tone has become less blustersome of late, about in inverse proportion to the quantity of modern airplanes and armaments that China is acquiring. Japan's demands have changed to requests, and China is even refusing to grant these. And to top it off, the Chinese are turning the tables by making a few demands on Tokio. Not that China anticipates defeating Japan in war. But they seem now to stand ready to fight to repulse the Japanese juggernaut.

That old bogey, "the cost of living," is again in the headlines. Some industries are considering plans whereby the cost of living index will be used as a basis for wage increases and decreases. An advance in the index is forecast for the near future.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

"I am the Lord that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself." These words from Isaiah comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, December 6, in all churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "God the Only Cause and Creator." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me; I girded thee, though thou hast not known me: That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none beside me. I am the Lord, and there is none else" (Isaih 45: 5, 6).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Matter, which takes divine power into its own hands and claims to be a creator, is a fiction, in which paganism and lust are so sanctioned by society that mankind has caught their moral contagion. . . . God created all through Mind, and made all perfect and eternal. Where then is the necessity for recreation or procreation?" (pp. 170, 205).

EXPERIENCED HOUSEWIFE CLUB

(By Maude Larue Ives)

This is the season of the year,
When hearts reflect the Yuletide cheer.

Many of us are looking forward to holiday guests; some of them from afar may visit for several days. Not only will there be a Christmas dinner to plan, but the meals before and after the great event will engage our attention. We will certainly appreciate having something all prepared in the ice box so that an appetizing repast may be served in a jiffy. A housewife doesn't like the idea one little bit of spending all her time in meal getting, for she is entitled to share the Yuletide festivities with her guests.

Here is a tasty meat dish that can be prepared before the house guests arrive. It was brought in by Mrs. Anna Cropsey, 3229 Hopkins street, Oakland, Calif.

CHAMPION MEAT LOAF

Two pounds raw pork (shoulder), one-half pound raw ham, two eggs, one cup tomato juice, three cups wheaties. Salt and pepper to taste. Bake one and a half hours in a moderate oven.

CHRISTMAS COOKIES

(From The Farmer's Wife)

Two cups molasses, two cups brown sugar, two cups shortening, four eggs, four teaspoons each of cloves and cinnamon, three teaspoons allspice, two teaspoons nutmeg, one-fourth pound of almonds or walnuts, three teaspoons cream of tartar, two teaspoons soda. Soft dough. Anise or coriander seed may be added if one likes. Bake three or four weeks before using.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

To prevent the filling from soaking the under crust of pies beat the white of an egg, and before filling pie shell brush over the crust with the beaten egg white.

Glass Building Without Windows For Fifth Avenue

A glass office building, the first of its kind in New York City, is to be built on Fifth avenue at Fifty-sixth street, according to officials of the Corning Glass Works who will occupy the site.

The Corning building will be five stories high, of fireproof construction, and with exterior walls entirely of glass construction units framed in Indiana limestone—an office building of glass.

On the first floor there will be five transparent windows, through which the public may see the wares of the Corning Glass Works—but no more. Air conditioning throughout allows construction without windows, yet those within will not lack light because the glass bricks will transmit approximately 78 per cent of daylight.

New metal mounting frames enable tile walls and floors to be assembled without plaster or cement.

WORLD PEACE HINGES ON UNITED ACTION

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

As has been pointed out by more than one newspaper there is one good thing at Geneva, however we may feel about the League of Nations. The organization that seems to appeal to all shades of opinion is called the International Labor Office. The United States, although not a member of the League of Nations, joined the ILO several years ago and citizens generally think it was a good move on the part of our government.

The San Francisco News, in a well written editorial, says the ILO is striving to do on a world scale what we attempted under our NRA nationally — to eliminate cut-throat competition, to remove child labor and to regulate hours and labor of adults in a human way.

As many as 62 countries belong to the ILO. It is the hope of the organization to remove the main causes of war by raising living standards among the world's masses; it is felt well-paid and well-nourished workers will stand as one man against conflicts between nations brought on by ambitious politicians.

Director Harold Butler of the ILO rightfully says:

"It is only through an equitable organization of the world's economic life that peace, justice and freedom can be made secure."

* * *

James M. Landis, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, has assumed personal direction of the enactment of preliminary segregation of the activities of a Stock Exchange member as a broker and a dealer and of the added studies to determine if the separation of the dual functions should be complete.

Stock Exchange representatives have been told by the SEC it is proposed to put credit restrictions on members, off and on the floor, and to reclassify floor brokers.

Reaction in other countries to the victory of the President in the election is expressed by the Manchester Gurdian ni the following comment:

"Mr. Roosevelt has been notified that millions of American farmers will demand, in view of his overwhelming victory, that he should return to the principles of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, which were declared illegal by the United States Supreme Court.

"At the same time Mr. Roosevelt received a somewhat similar message from labor spokesmen. They demand a return to part of the principles of the National Recovery Administration, which were also destroyed by the Supreme Court. They wish for a maximum working week, minimum wages and restrictions on the employment of women and children.

"They will undoubtedly bring great pressure to bear on the President for a constitutional amendment, which, in the light of the Supreme Court's attitude, would probably be the only means of achieving these ends."

* * *

It has been stated by more than one student of governmental affairs that the four outmoded members of the Supreme Court, the four who vote consistently against liberal laws, are over 70 and eligible to request retirement at full pay. One close student of the trend of things asseverates such a request from one, two, three or all four of the justices would be gratefully welcomed by many citizens.

DAMP WEATHER AFFECTS IGNITION

Many cases of stalled cars during the winter are caused by the effect of moisture on the ignition system. With the approach of damp or wet weather, the motorist who understands some of the reasons why a motor will sometimes fail under such conditions can take measures to reduce the resulting delays.

Moisture is a conductor of electricity. If moisture collects on ignition wires that are not moisture-proof, the electric current is diverted from its regular course. When in sulation becomes worn with age it will collect moisture and thus cause trouble.

Moisture may collect inside the distributor cap and interfere with the current. Moisture also diverts the current at the spark plugs. When electricity is diverted from its regular course the condition is referred to as a "short circuit." The remedy is to remove the cause.

When a motor which has been out in the fog or rain fails to start after two or three attempts, the effort should not be continued because that will only result in running the battery down.

The motorist should obtain some dry rags and proceed to wipe dry the spark plugs, inside the distributor cap, and all wires leading to the distributor cap, coil and spark plugs.

After wiping as dry as possible a cloth or newspaper should be used as a fan to evaporate any remaining traces of moisture. If the car is equipped with a fire extinguisher the drying process can be hastened by squirting a little of the extinguisher fluid on the affected parts and then wiping and fanning them dry.

Human Hands Do Work Of Bees

Human hands equipped with small paint brushes assisted nature's pollination processes in Wenatchee orchards this past spring and almost doubled the apple set in nearly every instance where this unusual experiment was conducted.

Hundreds of apple tree limbs on which blossoms were pollinized by hand during blossomtime under the supervision of the Washington State College extension service, directed here by Fred Ovrely, showed amazingly heavier "sets" compared with adjacent limbs that were left for nature to pollinize through wind, bees and insects.

Here is an example comparison selected from hundreds of similar cases:

Limb No. 1-J. It was a "check" limb, dependent upon bees to spread the pollen. There were 137 blossom clusters. Only seven blossoms set and there are now seven apples. . . . Three feet away, on the same tree, is another limb. It had 93 clusters. One blossom in each cluster was touched with a small paintbrush that had been dipped lightly in pollen. There are 87 apples on this limb, weighing it to the ground.

Hand pollination costs were figured at about 30 cents per tree, nearly doubling the yield. Such results, however, require careful attention on the part of the human "bee." Haphazard brushwork failed to accomplish the amount of "set" produced by conscientious pollinizers.

Scores of men and girls were employed to conduct the experiments this spring. Blossoms were taken from Jonathans, winter bananas and other pollinizing varieties and were rubbed over screen, causing the pollen to drop through onto a piece of paper. The accumulated pollen was allowed to dry for 48 hours and then was placed into a bottle. With a small brush dipped lightly into the golden powder, workmen tipped one blossom in every second, third or fourth cluster. Only the tiniest particle of pollen was required to do the job.

Varieties of apples that were hand pollinized were winesaps and delicious, the two most popular and profitable types in this district. Where trees are healty and crops are light, hand pollination pays, it was the conclusion of horticulturists who studied the experiments.

Spinning Easier Now

That acceleration of which you are so proud in the case of your new car can also be costly.

It is the result, as you should know, of improved fuel induction, higher power and faster gearing—a combination which, if brought into play too rapidly, will spin the wheels without imparting forward motion to the car. This is wasteful of tires.

Don't Shift Too Fast

Don't be anxious to get into high gear when starting if you would do the economical thing in driving.

It is recommended by one of the largest automobile manufacturers that the shift from second to high should be made when the car has reached a speed of 25 miles an hour.

Tire Patch

Blow-out patches should be removed and permanent repairs made to a damaged tire as soon as possible.

Such patches have a tendency to throw both tire and wheel out of balance and also cause chafing which eventually results in permanent damage.

HOLIDAY CROWDS IS DEMAND FOR CAREFUL DRIVING

Crowds of Christmas shoppers thronging the streets make December a month in which motorists should be particularly alert to drive carefully in business sections and do their part for the safety of persons on foot. This was emphasized in a statement by the California State Automobile Association, pointing out that records for many years past uniformly show a greater number of pedestrian accidents during December than any other month of the year.

Inclement weather, traffic congestion and shoppers occupied with gift problems rather than attention to safety in traffic were cited as some of the reasons for December rise in such accidents.

Rights of pedestrians as defined by the California Vehicle Code were summarized by the motorists organization as follows:

The law requires that motorists shall yield the right of way to pedestrians within any marked crosswalk, or any unmarked crosswalk at the end of a block.

When a motorist has stopped at a crosswalk or at any intersection to permit pedestrians to cross, it is unlawful for any other motorist approaching from the rear to overtake and pass the one who has stopped.

Pedestrians crossing at any other point than a marked or unmarked crosswalk are required to yield the right of way to vehicular traffic, but it is provided that this requirement does not relieve the driver from the necessity for exercising due care for the safety of pedestrians so crossing.

Motorists are required to come to a full stop when overtaking a street car which has stopped at a point not provided with a safety zone or at an intersection where traffic is not controlled by an officer or signal device. Where a safety zone or traffic control exists motorists may pass a stopped car, but not at a speed greater than ten miles per hour.

Jail Jaywalkers Say The Voters

If the drivers of New York City had their way jaywalkers would spend a lot of their time in jail and a lot of their money for fines.

In a poll conducted by one of the daily newspapers, only a fraction of one per cent of the voters were opposed to fining or imprisoning jaywalkers.

Youngster Sees His First Turkey

Although, at eight months, too young as yet to eat turkey, little George Cropsey nevertheless enjoyed a belated Thanksgiving, last Sunday, at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pitschke of Irvington street.

The young fellow brought with him his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Cropsey of Hayward, and his other grandparents, Mr and Mrs. Giles Cropsey of Oakland.

Thursday is too busy a day for our newspaper editor to enjoy an elaborate dinner. So said he, "I'll be grateful on Thanksgiving Day and have the whole of Sunday just to eat."

Did he eat? You should have seen him put it down.

That Mysterious Miss

If your car, a model two years old or older, shows a tendency to miss at high speeds or after long periods of operation, you might as well know that it is due to something which has been designed out of later eventually affect motor performance if not removed.

ENGINEER WILL ADOPT METHODS TO STOP WASTE

Inaugurates Changes In The Accounts System According To Cost Experts Advise

Five improvements in the cost-accounting system of the county engineering department were put into effect this week as the result of the recommendations of C. E. Piatt, San Mateo cost accountant named by the board of supervisors to make a survey of the department.

Piatt reported that pay checks to workers should be delivered to the claimants in person, and unclaimed checks should be returned to the office.

Engineer Marshall said that Piatt's recommendations, which included no major changes in his department, had been put into effect.

The cost expert also made the following five recommendations:

That reorganization of the cost-keeping force be efected so that there will be one man in charge of all cost clerks in the department.

That the time-keeping records be maintained in the main office, rather than in the corporation yard as at present.

That certain changes be made in the payroll as well as the methods of recording the daily time reports.

That action be taken to establish a better safeguard in the matter of small tools.

That the corporation yard and the garage be treated in the cost-keeping records as separate entities.

With reference to the fourth recommendation, about which Piatt said: "It is freely rumored that the loss to the county on small tools runs up into thousands of dollars," Engineer Marshall declared that he would employ anyone who could keep the relief workers from losing their shovels.

"We only purchase $1200 worth of tools a year," the engineer added.

Piatt also criticized the practice of foremen ordering merchandise from commercial firms without requisition or purchase orders. The practice causes delay of just payments, he stated.

MINING NOTES OF VARIOUS SECTIONS

Contract has been let for the new 100-ton flotation plant of Wesko Gold Mines at Centre Star mine, on Jubilee Mountain, two miles from Ymir, in the Nelson mining division.

This will be the fourth milling plant in the Ymir camp and the tenth in the Nelson gold district.

Contract, of an inclusive nature, has been let to Denver Equipment Co. and it is expected the plant will be in running order early next September. Cyanide equipment will be added later.

Tramway material has been purchased and construction of 2800 feet of aerial line will be commenced at once. The upper ore bin has already been finished and right - of - way cleared.

Other important work to be undertaken is construction of a bridge across the Salmon River, which runs at the lower edge of the property, gaining direct access both to the Great Northern Railway and the Spokane-Nelson international highway.

Development of the large orebodiees of Centre Star has constituted one of the most important recent events in the Nelson area.

* * *

C. P. Riel, managing director of Reward Mining Co., has returned from Porcher Island, near Prince Rupert, and states that, after a thorough examination the company has purchased the Edye Pass property formerly owned by Frank T. Patterson, prospector of many years' experience.

The property adjoins the Surf Point mine, which has been in profitable production for two years, and is owned by Noah Timmins and associates of Ontario.

The rise in the price of silver accounted for the export of $147,724 worth of the white metal from Alaska last year as against only $51,424 for the previous year. Gold exports give indications of running above last year's high, with $12,781,184 worth sent south during the first ten months of the past year.

Aran Fisherfolks Ride To The Sea

Far away off the west coast of Ireland is a small group of three islands, Inishmore, Inishman and Inisheer. These spoken of collectively are the South Isles of Aran. Inishmore, the largest, is seven miles long, two miles wide and is the most northerly island of the group. Together they form the barony of Gore. The soil is sandy and little can be raised except rye, which produces barely enough for the seed to plant the next years crop, but there is always enough straw after threshing for thatching time. The men on these far away islands engage in fishing and many lose their lives on the wild angry sea.

J. M. Synge, himself an Irishman, has pictured so realistically the lives of these simple hard working people in his play, "Riders to the Sea." The playwright lived for a time among the fisherfolk of the islands and that is the reason his characters seem to really live and die. Quoting from this play's introduction: "It is their virtue in life to be lonely, and none but the lonely man in tragedy may be great. He dies, and then it is the virtue in life of the women—mothers and wives and sisters—to be great in their loneliness." The drama was written in 1911 and since then the islands are rapidly losing that sense of isolation and self dependence.

Although eighteen square miles is the total area of the islands and the entire population numbers only about 2700, there are twenty churches and monasteries located here. Ruins of old fortresses of the first century A. D. tell of battles fought long ago.

Life, however, has its lighter moments, for while the rye is being threshed sons and daughters assemble in a little crowd on the rocks and join in gay sociability. Like the kelp-burning in the summer time, this work begets friendliness.

Each individual has a varied knowledge and skill in all kinds of labor, and that is why these people possess intelligence, charm and activity of mind. Their work changes with the season. Each man must be a skilled fisherman, be a farmer, burn kelp, mend nets, build and thatch a house, and make a cradle. On account of the danger of the sea he possesses the alertness of a primitive frontiersman. These people are happy in their simple surroundings and bravely accept life's hardships.

PUBLIC ACCLAIMS AUTO AT SHOW

The Ford Motor Company, on the strength of overwhelming acclaim at auto shows throughout the country, has slated itself for one of the biggest years in its 34 year history.

A startling figure was set up for the twelve month quota—one which will require some concentrated "shooting" on the part of 9000 Ford dealers in the United States to attain before the model-year runs out.

But if spirit means anything, the boys are already there, according to C. A. Bullwinkel, manager of the Richmond plant of the Ford Motor Company. "Throughout this territory—Northern California—the general feeling is one of a 'Ford year.' There have been what are called 'Ford years' before, but not since the introduction of the Model 'A' has there been such a strong current of optimism," he said.

"The dealers themselves, realizing that it will require hefty sales efforts to meet the big bulge over the 1936 quota, are selling with a vigor the like of which we have not seen in years."

Check Air Cleaner

The air cleaner on a car should be removed and thoroughly cleaned at regular intervals.

This unit collects dust, insects and other foreign substances which models.

That "something" is vapor lock. It is the result of vaporizing of fuel in the gasoline line due to an excessively high operating temperature. The bubble acts as a dam against the liquid fuel.

Daly City Girl Is Married In Reno

Mr. and Mrs. S. Eldrup of Woodrow street received word from their daughter Dorothy, telling of her marriage, Friday of last week, in Reno, Nev., to Arthur Waldvogel of Vallejo.

Those enjoying the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Barney Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. J. Loshe, Mr .and Mrs. Tom Druhan, Mrs. G. Gurmendez, Lee Longfellow, Gus and Will Hansen, Harry Wiley and Gloria and Jack Coleman.

NEW PRODUCTION PLANT ON COAST AUTO ASSEMBLY

Building Construction Completed Last Week And Now Ready For Operation

The second great link in Studebaker's production activities on the Pacific Coast was completed last week when William P. Neil, contractor and builder, formally presented the keys of the new million-dollar body plant to Stanley Whitworth, vice president of the Studebaker Pacific Corporation.

The new body plant was built to take care of increased production demands from distributors and dealers throughout the nine Pacific Coast states. Built adjacent to and as an integral part of the assembly plant, which was constructed late in 1935 ,the new addition will be used for such stages in body assembly as painting, wiring and upholstery. From the new plant these completed bodies will travel by mechanical conveyor to the main assembly line in the year-old building.

Motors, frames, axles, wheels, unfinished bodies and fenders, as well as countless parts, are shipped to this plant from the Studebaker factory at South Bend, Indiana. However, a number of parts and accessories that are manufactured on the Pacific Coast and that meet Studebaker specifications are purchased here. Among these are included tires, batteries and bumpers.

The new building has over 142,000 square feet of floor space, making a total area for both buildings of more than five acres on one floor level.

With daily production now three times greater than the original estimate of a year ago and with 1937 promising even greater sales, the need for this new plant is apparent.

About 3500 acres of pulp wood are required to make one day's supply of paper for United States newspapers, according to estimates by the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters.

On $500 bond, furnished by a Daly City innkeeper, Templeman was given his freedom till Monday of this week, when a renewal of the bond was refused.

Templeman is now in custody of the sheriff and faces a jail sojourn if he cannot obtain $500 cash bail or $1000 bond.

STATE TEACHERS ASKED TO HELP SPREAD TIDINGS

The State Department of Public Health has planned an extended program for the care of crippled children in the state of California with the additional funds which are made available under the Social Security Act. Crippled children under 21 years of age whose parents are financially unable to provide necessary medical and surgical care will be entitled to consideration for treatment. The co-operation of all civic organizations, especially the Parent Teachers Association, is asked to disseminate information regarding this program, according to Mrs. Maude E. Benson, state chairman exceptional child for California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Diagnostic clinics will be held in the various counties in the state by the Department of Public Health. There will be orthopedic specialists, nurses, and social workers attached to these clinics who will examinle all crippled children applying for examination. Specific recommendations will be made for the care of these crippled children. If hospitalization is recommended, it will be given in the nearest hospital which offers adequate facilities for proper care. Supervision and follow up of all cases are planned as part of the program.

This new crippled children's program under the Social Security Act in no way interferes with or curtails the program inaugurated under the Crippled Children's Law of 1927. It merely makes more funds available for the medical ,surgical and hospital care of crippled children.

A survey is being made of all the crippled children within the state of California. Excellent co-operation has been obtained from the public health nurses and the school nurses. It is requested that all known crippled children be reported to the Department of Public Health, giving name, address and physical disability.

Mystery Shot Kills Youth Near Highway

James Blecher, 21, 242 Hale street, San Francisco, was found dead, Monday of this week, west of Bayshore highway near Brisbane, the top of head blown off by a shotgun blast.

Lack of clues and motives placed police at a disadvantage in determining whether Blecher was murdered, committed suicide or had been accidentally shot.

Parents of the youth, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Blecher, doubted the suicide theory. They said he had left home in a happy mood with a friend, Saturady night, but had not returned overnight.

Police declared that position of the body and a rusty, old fashioned shotgun found under it indicated that the death had not resulted from a hunting accident. Moreover, Blecher was not particularly interested in hunting and seldom participated in the sport.

A passing hunter found the body in a small canyon lying face downward.

Red Cross Campaign Success In County

Roll Call Chairman Miss Helen Percy Chesebrough declared, early this week, that the annual Red Cross drive in San aMteo County was a success. Reports from Burlingame and San Mateo business districts and outlying areas were still incomplete.

Miss Chesebrough said indications were that the final total will be far in excess of that of last year.

Incomplete reports show a county wide total of $6172. This amount will be swelled considerably when all chairmen turn in their records.

Wildcats Win Over Jeff In Basketball

The Jefferson Union High School varsity and the 130's basketball teams played St. Ignatius at the Presidio High gym, recently. The 130's have been practicing for three weeks and the varsity for one week.

St. Ignatius 130's beat Jefferson 21 to 18. The Indians played a good fast game and held St. Ignatius all through the game and had the lead several times.

The score at half time was 14-13, Indians favor. The Wildcats scored their winning points in the last few minutes of the game. Vanini and Denning played good games as guards, Kanter and Murray made many of the points and Corrigan played an exceptional game at center.

The varsity, due to the lack of practice lost, 50-6. The Wildcats had no trouble scoring against the Indians.

About eleven men turned out for the varsity.

The next game will be played on December 9 with San Mateo. The game is scheduled there.

Surprise Local Dancing Teacher

Last Saturday evening a group of relatives and friends of "Miss Rose," popular and well known dancing teacher of Brunswick street, Daly City, assembled at the Venetian Villa in San Francisco to celebrate her birthday.

On her arrival at the Villa she discovered to her surprise that she was to be the guest of honor at a dinner party which had been quietly arranged by her mother, Mrs. Rosenberg.

While the celebrants were partaking of a well prepared seven course dinner, "Cherie," a beautiful and vivacious entertainer at the Villa, dedicated a special song and dance to Miss Rose on the occasion of her birthday that will be long remembered for the sincere manner in which it was rendered. To the amazement of the guests and other present, Miss Rose responded by performing a very peppy military number, followed by an artistic terpsichorean creation of her own.

The honor guest received many lovely gifts and tokens of appreciation from both her relatives and members of her dancing classes.

Those attending the party and enjoying dancing until a late hour were Messrs .and Mesdames Brill, Ehrenberg, J. Carr, H. A. McHugh, R. Pasch, Ferreria, Ben Schlessinger and son Marvin; Rose, Albert and Maurice Rosenberg, Gus, Bertha and Mrs. Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Rosenberg, Mrs. Keller and daughter "Cherie," Minnie Nelson, Agnes Willar and Jack.
